Abstract

The abstract should briefly summarize the purpose of the research, methodology adopted, major findings, and conclusions. It should be written as a single paragraph and typically limited to 200–250 words. Citations and equations should be avoided.

Keywords: Keyword1 · Keyword2 · Keyword3 · Keyword4 · Keyword5

---

1 Introduction

This section introduces the research topic, provides necessary background, explains the motivation for the study, and clearly states the objectives and scope of the research.

---

2 Literature Survey

This section reviews existing research relevant to the study. It highlights key contributions from previous works, identifies limitations, and establishes the research gap addressed by the current study.

---

3 Methodology

This section describes the research design, data sources, tools or techniques used, experimental setup (if any), and procedures followed for data analysis. The methodology should be detailed enough to allow replication.

4 Findings

The findings section presents the results obtained from the study. Data may be supported using tables, graphs, or figures. Results should be presented clearly without interpretation.

---

5 Discussion

This section interprets the findings and discusses their implications. It compares results with prior studies, explains the significance of outcomes, and addresses limitations and future scope.
